About

Its me

A soul riding a veichle called a body, wondering in life to fulfill the purpuse. Unitl one day... I woke up from a dream, realizing that life is just another dream, which my consiousness insists on waking up to. It was a journey nurished in my heart the knowledge of the truth about human beings. Who we are, and why we are here. Figured out that the only purpuse life has is the one that you give to it. Remebered past lives, and surrendered to the ONE, that we all... are. Founed out that I can paint, I can write, I can cook, I can do more than just to code... Yet... I still can be.
